November Monthly Meeting

Since the UC Merced Center is still closed, we will be having our meeting in Bedard Controls Training Room—1521 Tollhouse Road, Suite D, in Clovis. Tollhouse between Fowler and Sunnyside

Sent out an email showing where the office is located and where parking is available. Front of the office, on Tollhouse, on Stanford and behind the building. I am only mentioning this as we share the building with and AA venue who also has a meeting at 7 pm and I do not know how busy the parking lot is in the evening.

This will be a print competition, please bring your three images by 6:45 pm. Forms on the website.

Conflict of Interest

By Jonathan Rollins

Photo was taken in the Rocky Mountains national park. I was using a Nikon D850. Nikon 300 mm 2.8 lens mounted in a carbon fiber tripod. ISO of 200.

We found about 40 or so Elk challenging each other when not feeding. The Elk did not pay much attention to me.

Nevertheless, I was very careful around the Elk.

Sisterly Love

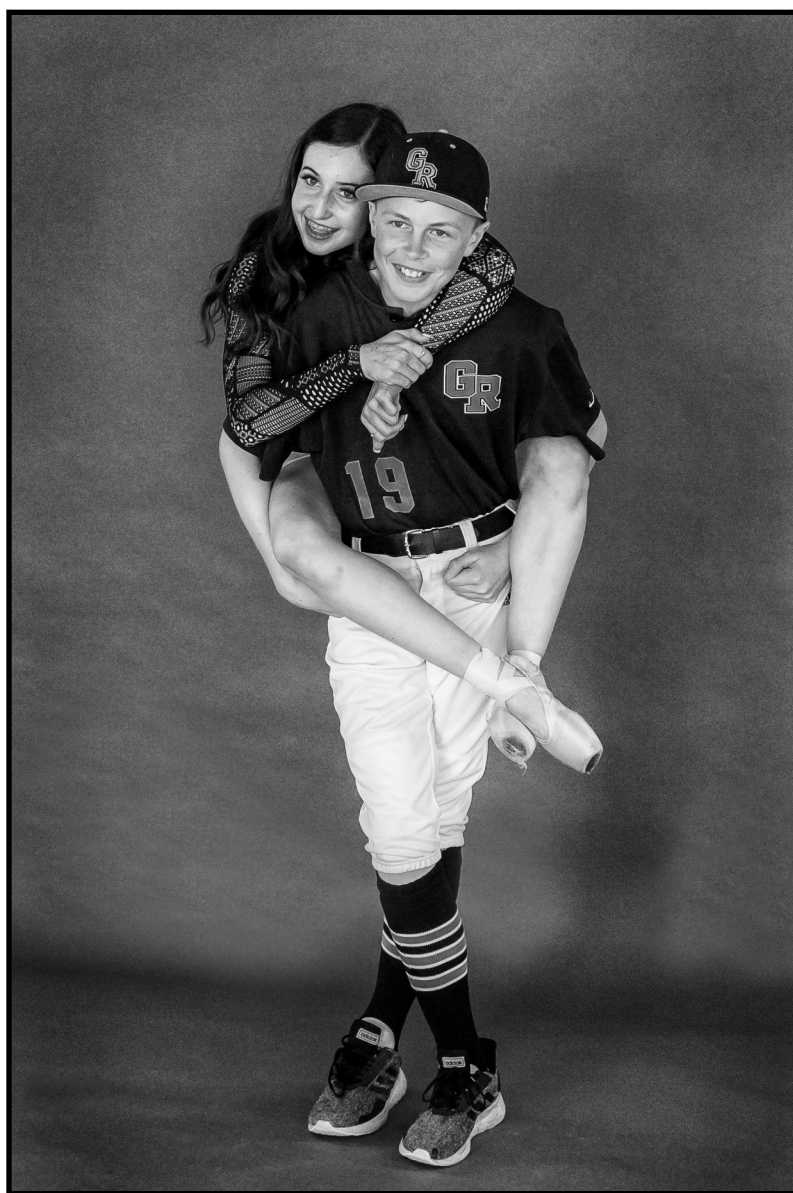

By Shelley Stone

"Sisterly Love" was one of many photos that I took of my grandkids last year during a photo shoot. It was shot indoors with natural light that came from the sliding doors they were facing. I didn't use a flash. The photo was taken with my 5D Mark 3 Canon using a Canon 24-105mm lens, ISO 1250 at f4. I'm not the best at knowing exactly what settings to use, so it's always trial and error.

At the age the kids are now (Mackenzie is 17 and Reece is 15) their looks are changing so quickly, becoming more adult. It's time for another photo shoot!

Mac is a Senior at Clovis North this year and wants Dee, Loye and I to take her Senior photo, then she'll choose the best. Any suggestions friends??

Memorial Shapes and Textures

By Elizabeth Bedard

This is part of a monument that was unveiled in September 2012. It is at a corner of a busy intersection so I have never been able to stop and get a closer look. I was drawn by the shapes and textures. This last September, while visiting my in laws, I took a walk with my camera with a different destination in mind and walked right by the monument on a beautiful day. I used my Nikon Z6, hand held.

Mobius Arch

By Diane Weigandt

I've only been into photography for a few months and this photo was taken on a weekend trip with Dee, Shelley & Loe to the Eastern Sierras. First time to Alabama Hills & Mobius Arch. Taken with a Panasonic Lumix G9, 12-60 lens.
